Integrating Compassion into Your Teaching

Kona Jones, Director, Online Learning, Richland Community College

Points to Ponder

● Who are your students?
● How can you facilitate their success?
● What interventions would you like to try?
● Small changes you might make?
● How will you know your changes make a difference?

You may use the area below to draw, sketch, or describe your current student(s) and what your goals will be for your student(s) after you have implemented some ideas from this session.

Current Students

Goals for Students
Applying the Peralta Equity Rubric to Promote Connection and Belonging

Chelsea Cohen and Inger Stark, Laney College, Peralta Community College District

Peralta’s webpage on the rubric now has the most recent version (May 2019) and two other docs, one that explains each criterion, and another that gives an overview of the research used in the rubric design. (https://web.peralta.edu/de/peralta-online-equity-initiative/equity/)

Keywords:

- Technology Resources
- Student Support Services
- Universal Design
- Images
- Bias
- Diverse Perspectives
- Connection
- Relevance
- Belonging
- Expression
- Engagement

How could the Equity Rubric be applied at your college?
10-10:45 Canvas Combo Session 1

Meet the CCC Canvas Community Home Base!

Logan Murray and Mike Vogt, California Virtual Campus-Online Education Initiative (CVC-OEI)

Complete a few of these items to connect with your CCC colleagues in the CCC Canvas Home Base:

- Create a personal Canvas Community profile
- Join the CCC Home Base Group
- Look at a discussion (feel free to respond)
- Identify a topic you are most interested in learning more about.
- “Follow” a CCC colleague from another college
- People: Who do you know or recognize?
